

BIG INCREASE.

Nevada Gold Output Shows Two Million Advance.

WASHINGTON Nov. 21—A report issued by the geological survey says: The production of gold in the United States during 1904 amounted to 3,910,729 fine ounces, valued at $80,635,444.

This represents an increase of $7,443,948 over the production of 1903. The largest previous output in 1902 amounted to 80,000,000.

The production of silver in 1904 amounted to 55,999,864 fine ounces, valued at $32,035,378. This presents an increase of 1,699,864 ounces over the production of 1903, and an increase in value of $2,713,373.

The record output of silver in 1902 amounted to 63,500,000 fine ounces, the report says, has not been reached in late years, nor has the commercial value attained the figures of that year, which amounted to $82,101,000.

Nevada Makes Increase.

The principal source of the increase in the gold production compared with that of 1903, the report says, are easily traceable.

Colorado added nearly $2,000,000 to her production of 1903, most of the amount coming from the mines of Cripple Creek.

Nevada's output increased about the same amount chiefly by reason of the phenomenal yields of the Goldfield mines. The greater progress is reported in California whose production exceeds that of 1903 by $2,300,000, the increase being used partly by a strong development of the quartz mining industry and to a less degree to the activity of the dredgers.

Alaska and Arizona show increased yields amounting respectively to $1,476,892 and $748,708.

A number of states show smaller increases, while Utah, Montana and the state of Washington have less gold to their credit in 1904 than in 1903.

The increase of value in the production of silver of $2,713,373 is somewhat evenly distributed among the various states and territories but to some extent due to the better price of silver obtained.

Colorado leads with an increase of $670,330. California, Idaho, Montana and Nevada and Utah also added considerable value to their silver production.

THE STORM.

Snow Piled Up in the Mountains and Valley Coated.

Word from every quarter of the State gives advice of a general storm that started Sunday and has been raging since that time. Word from Reno last evening stated that eighteen inches of snow had fallen at the Summit and all the mill hands at Loyallton and surrounding camps have been laid off, over four hundred men came in yesterday from the mountains.

Ed. Haswell of the Glenbrook stage line came down last evening and reports over a foot of snow on the Summit and it drifting badly. At Martlette Lake a like amount has fallen.

Word from the southern section is to the effect that a general storm is in progress, which is a welcome visitor, and it is believed the storm will have the effect of clearing the atmosphere and cleaning out the sickness.

In this valley, up to last evening there had been five inches of snow and more coming. The amount of good that a storm of this character does at this season of the year can not be calculated as it lays a foundation for any storms that may come. The stock men and the farmers are rejoicing.

DEATH OF J. C. CAVELL

Former Resident of This City Passed Away in California.

John C. Cavell, father of Dr. Cavell of this city, died Sunday night at his home in Modesto, California. Dr. Cavell was at his bedside when he passed away.

The deceased was a native of England. He leaves a wife and four children. Death resulted from a stroke of paralysis sustained two weeks ago.

Mr. Cavell and family resided in this city for a number of years and three of his children were born in Carson City. A sister, Mrs. J. H. Cowing, resides in this city. The funeral will take place at Modesto.

Mrs. Fred Crowell arrived from Goldfield Monday evening called by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her cousin Nat Dow. She arrived before his death.

EXPENSIVE PRODUCTION.

Theatrical Attraction With Wonderful Scenic Effects.

Klimt and Gasolo's $10,000 production, "On the Bridge at Midnight," is among the local bookings to be seen here soon. This is a successful comedy drama that contains a reproduction of Chicago's most wonderful feat of engineering—the lift or jackknife bridge over the Chicago River. Even experts in engineering doubted that this huge novelty would be a success but its perfect practicability silenced them and likewise Klimt and Gasolo silenced doubters who heard of their determination to introduce a working model of the bridge in a play. The stagebridge works as perfectly as the original and opens and closes as a steamer passes, making one of the greatest stage effects and achievements on the modern stage. It took twenty men five months to build this bridge scene alone for "On the Bridge at Midnight" but their work and the plans of the producers were so perfect that the scene passed without a hitch the opening night in Chicago and of course aroused the greatest enthusiasm. The entire river view, including the bridge, is a masterpiece of scene painting and construction. As the two huge sections of the roadway, the valves of the jackknife rise to let a steamer pass, audiences never fail to bestow tremendous applause. Much of this is of course due to the development of the deeply interesting plot of the play at this time, the story of the long sad search of a blind mother for her child stolen when a baby. There are several immensely funny characters played by well known comedians and the rest of the company is fully equipped and equal to the many demands of unusual comedy drama. While it is a strong play and scientifically impressive, all sensational melodrama exaggeration is avoided.

DEATH OF NAT DOW.

Regular Carpenters Passes Away a Short Illness.

Shortly after midnight Monday night Nathaniel Farnum Dow, one of the best known residents of this city answered the final summons and his spirit passed away. About ten days ago he was taken to Bowers' Manicure suffering with dropsy, but as he had previously been in fair health it was believed there was a chance for recovery.

Sunday his case grew serious and he was brought to this city, where the attending physicians gave no encouragement and advised sending for relatives. Mrs. Fred Crowell, a cousin was with him at the time of his death. Few people knew that he was ill and none thought he would so soon pass away, consequently his death comes as a great shock.

He was born on the 26th of June, 47 years ago in a village a short distance from St. Louis. He came to this city when eight or nine years of age and resided here until twelve years ago when he went to Idaho and other states in the northern belt returning to Carson City two years ago.

His surviving relatives are a sister, Mrs. James Marshall, of Seattle, and several cousins.

Nat Dow was a favorite with everyone. In the days gone by he was a social favorite and his charming voice was the call for an entrance into any of the homes in this city. He grew to manhood here and with the young people of his age always remained the same genial Nat that he was in his youth. He had a happy way of making friends wherever he went. He was a favorite with young and old. Nat will be missed and many of the "boys" of his age, who have moved away from this city, will be pained to learn of his untimely end.

He was a member of the local Lodge of Workmen, who will conduct the services at his grave. Having joined the Elks at Moscow, Idaho, a number of brethren of that order will also attend the obsequies.

The body will be brought from the undertakers to the Jellerson residence, where the remains will be viewed until the time of the funeral Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be in the Episcopal church, Rev. Mr. Darnelle officiating. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery in the family plot.

Insane on Religion.

Mrs. Alice Forrest, a young woman of Goldfield was brought to this city Saturday in an insane condition and was taken to the Nevada hospital for mental diseases, where she will be treated.

She is insane on the subject of religion and at times is very violent.

It is not known whether the young woman has any relatives or not, but she will be confined in the asylum until she is better or permanently cured.—Gazette.

ROAD TO MASONIC.

Will Benefit the Freight Teams From This City.

Lorena and the Masonic District are to have a new road. Mr. Yparraguirre accompanied by two other gentlemen, were in Lorena Sunday, picking out a route for a road from Sweetwater into the Masonic District. They will begin work at once and expect to have the road completed in ten days. This road will give the district an easy haul to Carson and also make an all winter route for the camp, as from the Sweetwater country little snowfall is encountered.

It will also cut out the bad haul over the summit into Bridgeport, one of the worst hauls on the entire haul to Carson. Mr. Yparraguirre has a number of good teams and is backed in the enterprise by P. J. Conway and Fulston & Fredericks, all wide awake, enterprising citizens of Sweetwater, who realize that Masonic means for the prosperity of that rich garden spot of Nevada, and with true Nevada spirit they go after the business. Besides, this road when completed means much in the way of cheapening the cost of freight and promptness in getting supplies into the district. The road will come in from Sweetwater on a gradual grade up the canyon to Lorena, intersecting at that place with the Bodie and Bridgeport road, and will give an all winter route to either the V. & T. at Carson or the Southern Pacific at Wabaska.—Lorena Ledger.

Union Dance.

On Friday evening, Nov. 24, the members of Empire Labor Union, No. 115 will give a dance. The boys have concluded that a good time is about ripe and this occasion is the one when a good time is to be on tap. The Empire Union is one of the strongest in the State and the previous dances have shown that the members know how to entertain. The dance will take place in Union Hall, and one dollar buys a ticket, which admits ladies and gentlemen, while an excellent supper will be served free.

Wants Damages.

District Court convened this morning with Justice Brown on the bench. The roll of jurors was called and the case of Charles Hairgrove vs. Fred Scott came up for trial. The jury was secured without much trouble and the trial began before noon.

The suit grows out of the arrest and prosecution of Hairgrove, by Scott on a charge of grand larceny. In December, 1904, Scott swore to a complaint before Judge Morgan charging Hairgrove with stealing a horse valued at over $50. At the preliminary examination Hairgrove contended that he had a written contract with Scott to gather the latter's horses on shares and that the horses in controversy were his. After listening to the evidence Judge Morgan discharged the defendant. Scott then went before the grand jury and tried to have Hairgrove indicted but failed. He claims he has been damaged to the sum of $2,000 by his malicious arrest and prosecution.—Independent.

Will Get his $250.

Over in Nevada county, California, Hatfield, the rain maker, is celebrating. Last Friday he arrived in Grass Valley, Saturday morning he rigged his rain making apparatus on Lake Spaulding. Sunday afternoon it began to drizzle and last night the first snow of the season, a sharp driving precipitation from the northwest, began. The drought in old Nevada county is broken and doubtless the irrepressible rainmaker will at once claim the $250 which was to be given him in the event that "he broke the drought" within seven days.
